One space-saving multifunction printer from the ImageRUNNER line is the Kiyon IR-2202N laser printer, optimized for small, busy workgroups. Canon ImageRUNNER 2202N Office black and white printers are A3 devices with standard network and fast printing speeds that save time and increase productivity, but lack color printing and expansion options. The matte boxy frame is 921mm wide, 1010mm deep and weighs about 29Kg, and the Canon ImageRUNNER 2202N mono laser printer is one of the heaviest desktops. It uses a laser beam printing method with connection options such as Canon Mobile Print Version 2, Ethernet and rear USB port. Canon IR-2202N black and white copiers have a 400MHz processor and operate with 128MB of RAM. The control panel has a 5-line black and white backlit TFT screen. The standard paper tray handles 250 sheets, while the multipurpose tray can handle 80 sheets. Up to 80 sheets of plain paper can be handled in the output bin. Advantages The built-in scanning, copying, and printing capabilities of this model eliminate the need to purchase another device. It supports network printing, scanning to email, and additional languages such as Russian, Turkish and Arabic. Users can easily configure the Canon IR-2202N A3 black and white multifunction copier to meet their unique business needs. The ImageRUNNER 2202N multifunction copier is an energy efficient, cost-effective, long-life drum and high yield Canon IR-2202N toner cartridge that can print nearly 10,200 pages in black and white to minimize frequent replacement and downtime. Canon IR-2202N copier is easy to maintain and operate. Disadvantages Just print in black and white. ImageRUNNER IR-2202N slows down by 11ppm when printed on A3 size sheets. The resolution is only 600x600 dpi, so it may seem that very detailed, high-resolution images and text are washed away and pixelized. The IR-2202N laser copier lacks a double automatic document feeder and a double. Coralate is the only finishing feature of this device. If the test machine has only a small amount of toner left, the following message flashes on the display: You can continue printing, but we strongly recommend that you have a new toner cartridge before the toner is completely gone. If you can no longer print when the toner is completely exhausted, the message &lt;Replace the= toner= cartridge.=&gt; appears in the action panel. Follow the instructions to replace the toner cartridge. Warning Do not burn used toner cartridges or throw them into flames. If you accidentally spill or scatter toner, carefully wipe the loose toner with a damp, soft cloth to avoid inhaling toner dust. Do not clean loose toner using a vacuum cleaner that is not equipped with safety measures to prevent dirt explosions. Doing this can damage the vacuum cleaner or cause a dust explosion due to electrostatic discharge. Caution Keep toner out of reach of small children. If you take toner, consult your doctor immediately. If the toner is on your hands or clothing, rinse immediately with cold water. When washed off with lukewarm water, the toner is set and dirt from the toner can not be removed. Important Use only toner cartridges used on this machine. For supported canon genuine toner, see Consumables. Do not replace the toner cartridge until you receive a message to replace it. Do not replace the toner cartridge while printing the machine.
